A new Communications Team at Vanier College

Mr. Gilbert Héroux, Director General of Vanier College is pleased to announce the creation of Vanier Communications, to be headed by Bev Chandler, in the newly created position of Director of Advancement and Communications. Ms Chandler who has been with Vanier for many years will lead a new Communications Team focussed on structuring a new approach to internal and external communications of Vanier events and achievements. Current team members: Roy Hartling, Recruitment and Information Officer, Annabelle Kennedy, Events Organizer, and Lora Terlizzese and Marina Jelavic, College Receptionists, have been joined by Marguerite Corriveau who will take up the newly created post of Vanier Communications and Information Officer and Zsofia Orszagh who is the new Vanier Web Designer.

As Communications Officer, Marguerite Corriveau will be responsible for Media and Public Relations at Vanier. She brings over 30 years of communications experience to her new position. During her career she has worked in various aspects of communications including several years in the private film industry and over 8 years as a television host-interviewer at CFCF Television Montreal. She holds a Bachelor of Arts in Communication Arts and a Bachelor of Science degree from Concordia University.

Zsofia Orszagh is the founder and President of Consultation SOS. She studied at McGill University in MIS (Management Information Systems) then also got into graphics design, photography and marketing at Concordia University. She pursued further studies in web design at Dawson College where she has gained a strong foundation in multimedia and web development.
